

PRIVACY POLICY

Q&Q CAPITAL LLC - I.D: EIN 85-1743257, frames its personal data privacy policy in the interest of protecting any user accessing its website and is therefore committed to taking all necessary measures to protect and safeguard the data of any existing or potential customers in accordance with applicable data protection legislation and regulations.

Q&Q CAPITAL LLC- I.D: EIN 85-1743257, implements necessary and appropriate measures and procedures to ensure that your information remains secure at all times. We periodically train our employees on the importance of maintaining, protecting and respecting the personal information and privacy of all our users, as an organization we take the privacy of individuals very seriously and will impose appropriate disciplinary measures, including termination of employment if necessary.

The personal information you provide to us when you register as a user of our Fund is classified as proprietary information and is protected in a number of ways.

Registered information is stored in a secure location and only our authorized personnel have access to it through authentication factors. All personal information is transferred using a secure connection and SSL secure certificate and all necessary measures are taken to prevent unauthorized third parties from accessing such information.

Information over the Internet is not always completely secure, but the organization strives to protect your personal data by taking appropriate precautions. Once we have received your information, we will implement procedures and security measures to try to prevent unauthorized access.